M-FILES NEW DESKTOP UI - EMAIL TEMPLATE FOR YOUR USERS

Subject Line: M-Files to update its Desktop User Interface November 2022

Body:

Hello [first name],

M-Files to update its Desktop User Interface November 2022 to help its users work smarter.

As an active M-Files user, I would like to take this opportunity to share with you some exciting developments unfolding at M-Files.

As part of a customer-centric organization, M-Files regularly captures customer feedback and insight and uses this feedback to improve the user experience and platform. Simplicity and clarity are core design principles in how they've built and iterated the M-Files Platform. Staying true to their customer-centricity and design principles, they are ready to unveil a New Desktop User Interface (UI) that delivers on these design principles.

The New Desktop UI will offer an improved layout and experience, which includes better information layering, less distraction, and enhanced readability. A comprehensive list of the all the changes can be found on the Community.
